Katerina

I met Katerina on Riva Dolcevit, a new build project . Everything had just reopened after Covid restrictions including the shipyard, but regardless of the challenging situation and shortage in supplies we were ready for the season. I believe finding someone who is able to find a solution in any unpredictable circumstances is the key to success. And this is exactly what Katerina can offer along with exceptional taste and the ability to combine the Owner's needs, luxury and style with practicality and comfort.
